CHAPTER SPONSORS

Neil Seiden, Managing Director of Asset Enhancement Solutions, LLC will discuss the different types of non-traditional financing that are available to supplement existing bank financing or that can be used in lieu of conventional bank financing. In today's Turbulent Times it is difficult for many businesses to obtain and maintain the financing which is critical to the success of their business. Due to regulatory requirements, banks must be conservative and generally cannot lend to companies with consecutive years losses, capital deficiencies, tax issues and those that are too highly leveraged. However, what looks bad in the eyes of one institution may look good to non-regulated financial institutions that have the flexibility to be more creative and who specialize in distressed and special situations.
